F. Read the following paragraphs and answer the questions that follow.

It is said that in country after country, progress should become synonymous with an assault on nature. We who are a part of nature and dependent on her for every need, speak constantly about 'exploiting' nature. When the highest mountain in the world was climbed in 1953, Jawaharlal Nehru objected to the phrase 'conquest of Everest' which he thought was arrogant. Is it surprising that this lack of consideration and the constant need to prove one's superiority should be projected onto our treatment of our fellowmen? I remember Edward Thompson, a British writer and a good friend of India, once telling Mr. Gandhi that wildlife was fast disappearing. Remarked Mr. Gandhi: 'It is decreasing in the jungles but it is increasing in the towns'

On the one hand, the rich look askance at our continuing poverty; on the other, they warn us against their own methods. We do not wish to impoverish the environment any further and yet we cannot forget the grim poverty of large numbers of people. Are not poverty and need the great polluters? For instance, unless we are in a position to provide employment and purchasing power for the daily necessities of the tribal people and those who live in and around our jungles, we cannot prevent them from combing the forest for food and livelihood, from poaching and from despoiling the vegetation.

71. At the beginning of the passage, the writer expresses her opinion that in many countries progress is synonymous with

a) utmost cruelty to nature.

b) a balanced treatment of nature

c) utmost care for nature

d) development

72. In the passage the term 'exploiting' nature suggests

a) greed of man.

b) destructive urge of man

c) sarcasm

73. Nehru objected to the phrase 'conquest of Everest' since

a) Everest is unconquerable.

b) it depicts Everest as a victim

c) it sounds pompous and boastful

d) it carries a war-like connotation

74. Gandhi's statement 'It is decreasing in the jungles but it is increasing in the towns.'

a) Is a satirical comparison of man's callousness to the animals.

b) Refers to man's selfishness

c) Refers to flora and fauna

d) Refers to wild animals' decrease in the jungle

75. The writer is of opinion that tribal people can be prevented from combing forest for food

a) to provide employment and purchasing power for daily necessities.
